

Issues Experienced:

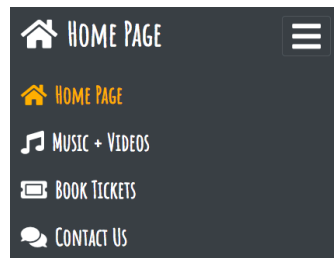

1. CSS was not updating when previewing in GitPod. I had to create a ticket <http://github.com/gitpod-io/gitpod/issues/3041> it was a glitch now fixed.
2. GitPod had error message that I had used up all minutes. I had to email Student Care at Code Institute to change my account details to unlimited storage

3. GitPod was not allowing me to push to repository. I had to create a ticket <http://github.com/gitpod-io/gitpod/issues/2954> it was a glitch now fixed.
4. I had issue that the button wasn't centre aligning with display block and margin 0 auto code. In order to fix, I found on google this site <https://coder-coder.com/how-to-center-button-with-html-css/> which suggested to change the display from block to flex – which solved the issue
5. When the screen was small, too much of the navigation bar was taking up the screen, which seemed very inconvenient for the user.

So I decided to create a mobile navigation drop-down menu to free up some space, with help from this website <https://mdbootstrap.com/docs/standard/navigation/navbar/>

6. When testing, some of the content was coming off the screen without hiding behind the footer. I tried to edit the code with Chrome Developer tools, and the issue seemed to be fixed if I added margin or padding to the bottom of <section> tag.
